CONTRACTS

This course presents a road-map approach for thinking about contract problems. You'll learn about choice of law contract formation, unenforceable contracts, breach of contract, and plaintiff's remedies.

Learning Objectives:

- * Introduce the elements of contract and the language of contract law
- * Explain the basic foundation and dynamics of contract law, particularly the fluidity of the law as it relates to changing technology and legislative reaction to those changes
- * Become familiar with enforceability of the contract
- * Engage the student in topical discussions regarding contracts as they emerge in the news
- * Discuss who can enter into contracts, particularly the issues of mental capacity and emancipation.
- * Discuss remedies available to the parties of a contract, including specific performance, injunctions, restitution, liquidated damages and money damages.
- * Address the mechanics of a civil trial typical of a breach on contract action
